At WellsCare helping people live an active and healthy lifestyle pain-free without the use of drugs is our goal. The modern life is busy and compressed, and breaking routines to accommodate something new is difficult. So we tried to find a way that would be effective medically and fit it into ones lifestyle as easily a smartphone. What we came up with is IASO.

IASO is a safe FDA approved personal therapeutic device that uses massage therapy and LLT technology to relieve pain, increase circulation and speed healing without the use of drugs.

It is portable, light and convenient. It comes with a long-lasting rechargeable battery and and compact USB charger so you can use it and take it with you anywhere you need it.

The effectiveness and convenience of IASO has been described as groundbreaking.

Designed to fit the modern you

Style is everything today.

Not only does it have to work well, it has to look good. Creating a medical device that someone will wear and take anywhere has been a challenge. We know if they won't wear it they won't use it. With this in mind we spent the last few years perfecting IASO's design not only making sure it fits this criteria, but also that it retains its medicinal properties in the process.

We also wanted to be sure that it will work no matter the event, situation or environment. This is why IASO includes a band accessory and hydro-colloid patches so you can conveniently wear it on targeted areas during all of your daily activities. Wear it at home, work or play, or even when you workout.

The sleek design and compact size makes it an easy fit with all other modern accessories.

Design is not just what it looks like and feels like.
Design is how it works. — Steve Jobs

Pain-free, Drug -free

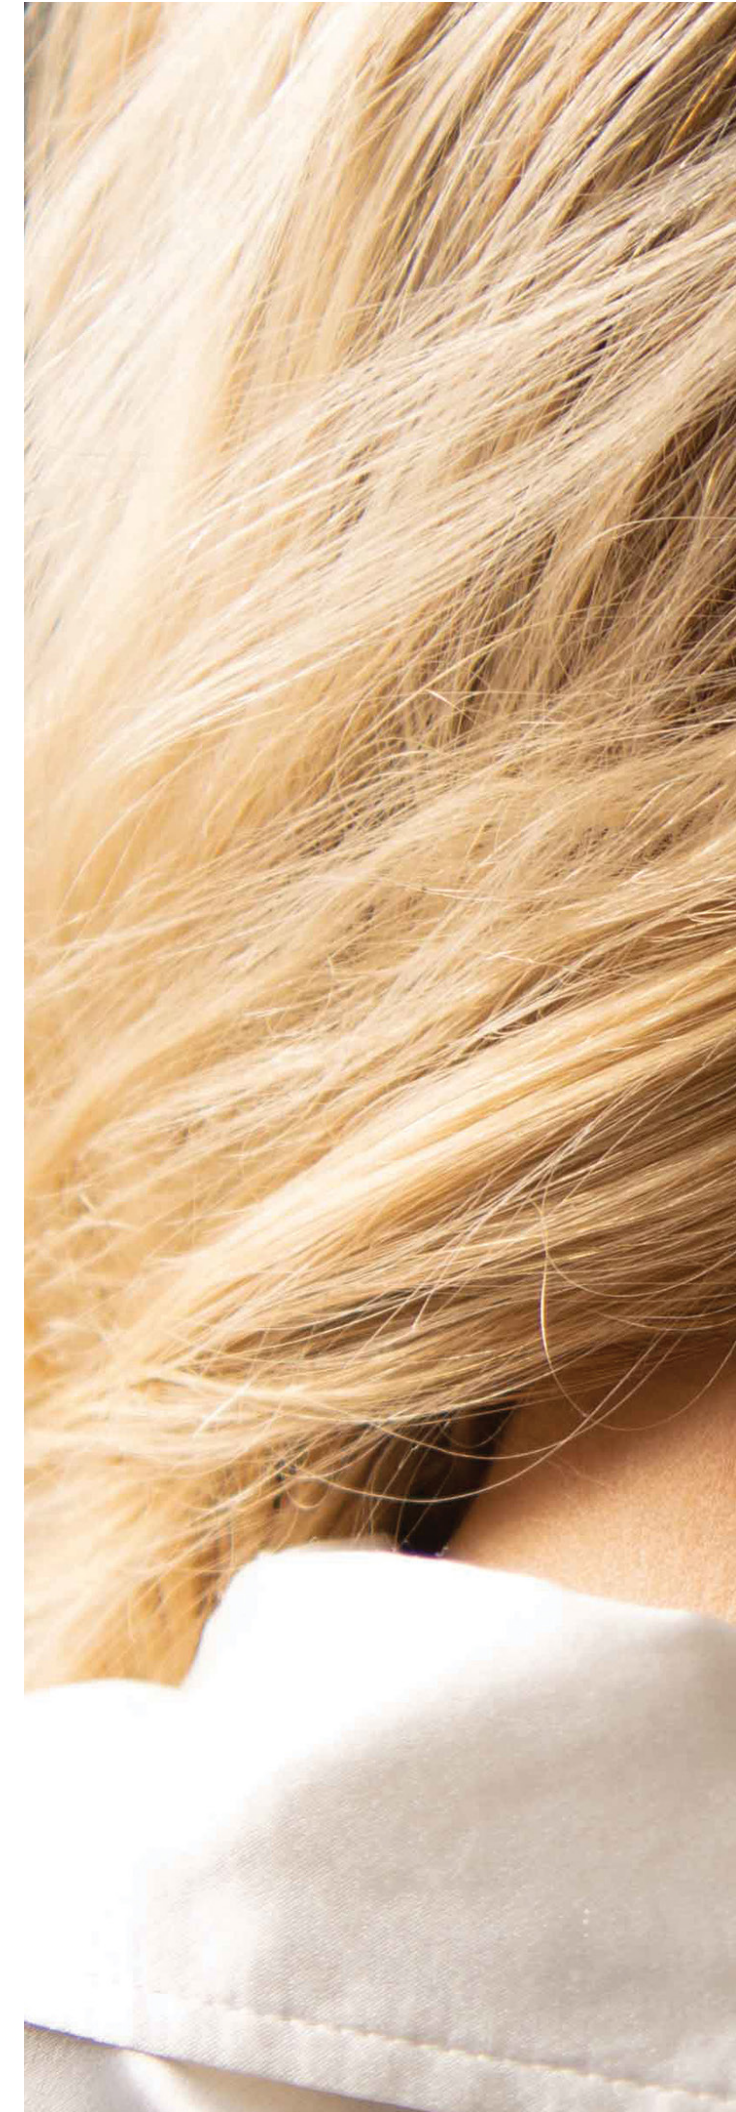

Verified Efficacy, Non-Invasive

Low Level Laser Therapy (LLLT), a light therapy technology, is safe and has a number of verified pain-relieving effects for different types of pain leading to its emergence as an appropriate home-care treatment technology. Pairing IASO's 3 Modes of powerful massage vibrations with LLT Therapy has shown incredible results.

The ability to treat targeted areas between visits and at times when activities exacerbate symptoms has shown to decrease pain and speed healing. This low intensity light increases circulation and assists in the healing of damaged cells resulting in regeneration.

LLLT Therapy is safe for home and office use and does not heat the body tissue or cause any damage. Chiropractors, physiotherapists, sports and medical professionals utilize this therapy for the following conditions such as:

- Chronic back pain
 - Joint pain
 - Muscoskeletal pain
 - Neck pain treatment

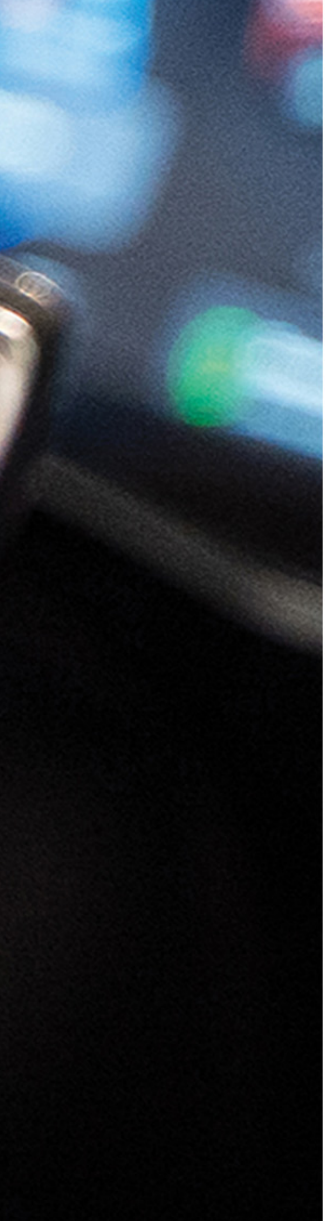

Whatever your activity

Stress free, pain free, healthy lifestyle. With IASO, you won't experience any pain, stress, nor side effects. It emits light in very specific therapeutic wavelengths (680nm + 830nm). In addition to red light therapy are rhythmic vibrations, which enhance the massage to give you relief from pain areas. The device offers three different modes which users can easily cycle through by clicking its single button, easily without effort. The first mode is the light therapy only mode. The second mode adds vibration for a massage. The third mode offers rhythmical vibration.
